2011 Liftoff Hosts

In cooperation with NASA's Johnson Space Center

Ballunar Liftoff Festival, Inc. is a non-profit, 501(c)(3) organization. It receives no tax support and depends entirely on sponsorship and festival-generated revenues to support its educational goals. The organization's mission is to encourage young people to study science and mathematics and to inform the public about the contributions aviation and space exploration make to our everyday lives. As part of this process, the organization partners with NASA's Johnson Space Center to promote the center's annual free public Open House.
